Sixth Form Induction Online

Dear parents and carers,

We are carefully monitoring the rise in cases of coronavirus in school age children nationally and in our local area. You will no doubt be aware that the number of students isolating following positive test results in the Derby City and Derbyshire area has risen significantly.

Following consultation with Public Health England we have taken the decision to replace the Sixth Form Induction scheduled for next week with an online induction because of the risk of disruption to students and their families should they come into contact with someone who tests positive for coronavirus.

Therefore, Sixth Form Induction will now take place on Thursday, 8 July. This will provide the opportunity for all prospective sixth form students to experience A Level teaching in their chosen option subjects, get recommendations and suggestions for summer reading and to receive an introduction to life in the Ecclesbourne Sixth Form delivered by our pastoral team.

Further details, including any technical requirements and support with accessing the remote induction experience will follow in a letter from our Sixth Form Office team.

I hope you will understand that this decision has been taken reluctantly in the interests of public health and safety.

Yours sincerely,

James McNamara
